

SIXTEENTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, OCT. 12, 1905.

No. 41

HEAD ENDER

On Henderson Division Caused by Carelessness of Telegraph Operator.

TWO LIVES LOST.

Monday morning about 3 o'clock No. 57, a south bound through freight, ran together in a head-end collision two miles south of Kelly's Station. Both trains were going at full speed and the shock was terrific. Both engines and some fifteen cars were piled up in a frightful mass and Engineer Hamby and Fireman Drake on 57 were killed. Engineer Wood on 78 was slightly cut and bruised; his fireman, Parkington, was uninjured. Conductor Smith on this train was slightly bruised.

No. 57 was in charge of Conductor Willard Boyd and Engineer Hamby. No. 78 was in charge of Conductor Jesse Smith and Engineer Wood.

The trouble was occasioned by Operator Sisk overlooking an order that was given to him for No. 57 and 1st No. 78 to meet at Kelly's. He had received the order only nineteen minutes before No. 57 whistled for the board. It is supposed he had fallen asleep and when he heard 57 whistle thought he had the order and gave them the white light which means "No orders for you." The train sped on and struck No. 78 with the above results.

As soon as the operator at Kelly's told the dispatcher at Earlinton that 57 was by him at once ordered both the Earlinton and Nashville wreckers and had their orders out and they were ready to sign up before he received a report from the wrecked trains. They were hurried to the scene of the trouble and at once went to work to clear the track. Engineer Hamby was found under his engine and was fearfully cut and mangled, his death must have been instantaneous. Fireman Drake lived a short while after he was removed. The bodies of both men were removed to Hopkinsville and prepared for burial and were then shipped to their home in Nashville.

No. 92 and 45 north bound passengers and No. 53 south bound were run by the way of Nortonville, Central City and Russellville and were consequently a few hours late. The track was cleared about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Notice.

To my friends in Earlinton: A business opportunity has come to me that will make it impossible for me to fulfill the duties of the office of Police Judge of Earlinton the coming term if I should be elected and I herewith withdraw from the race. I heartily thank those of you who endorsed me and pledged my support.

D. W. UMSTEAD.

Henry M. Draper Dead.

Henry M. Draper, of Knoxville, Tenn., a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Draper, of this city, died at that place last Wednesday, Oct. 5th, after an illness of several weeks duration of typhoid fever. The remains were brought to this place on 52 Friday morning and conveyed to the parents' residence, where funeral services were conducted by G. T. Dame. Interment took place at Earlinton cemetery Friday afternoon.

CAMPBELL CALLED DOWN.

Was Arrested While Fighting Booze in Henderson and Incidentally Trying to Make a Speech.

Secretary-Treasurer Campbell, colored, of the United Mine Workers district organization created a stir at the railroad station in Henderson on Sunday afternoon, October 1st, and was given a free ride in the patrol wagon. The policeman at the station and others who were there tried to advise Campbell to be quiet and avoid arrest but he seemed bent on breaking into jail and was just drunk enough to be very noisy and persistent in his efforts to make a speech in the white waiting room. He was advised to "go into the colored waiting room where he belonged," and he said "Me, go into the colored waiting room?" He declined to take advice and had to be assisted by a policeman. But there was just one place he wanted to be—in the white waiting room: just one thing he wanted to do—make a speech. Patience was finally exhausted and the officer called the patrol and Campbell was carried to the station house where he was released "on bond." The next morning he plead guilty to a plain drunk and was fined three dollars and the costs.

Rifle Range Will be Established for Target Practice Near City.

Information has been received by Capt. Paul P. Price, commanding Co. G, from Col. Noel Gaines, of Frankfort, Inspector General of the Kentucky State Guard, notifying him that ammunition would be issued to his company in the near future for target practice.

A rifle range will be established near the city limits and all members of the company present on regular drill nights will march to the range when the ammunition arrives and indulge in target practice.

REBATE EVIL IS SCOTCHED.

Praise for the President and Department of Justice for Their Action in the SCHWARZCHILD & SULZBERGER CASE.

The conviction and fining of four members of the firm of Schwarzchild & Sulzberger last week, for accepting rebates, forms the chief object of discussion among the returning politicians in Washington. Praise for the President and the Department of Justice is coming in from all over the country. It appears to be the general opinion that the rebate evil is effectively scotched. A successful precedent has been established in rebate cases, and hereafter, it is alleged, the Government's path will be comparatively easy in obtaining similar convictions if future cases of this kind arise.

Mr. Smith sums up the matter as follows:

"First—It has been clearly shown and proved by statistics which I have never heard questioned, that the average freight rates upon our American railroads are, by actual comparison, lower than any other country in the world, and lower than ever before in this country.

"Second—that the average pay of the laborers on our railroads is higher than that of any other country in the world.

"Third—that of the total earnings of the American railroads 40.80 per cent goes for labor and 25.04 per cent for capital; in England 27.03 per cent for labor, 38.02 per cent for capital; in Germany 38.04 per cent for labor and 35.02 for capital. It is also shown that for the year 1904 the pay of employees in the United States has absorbed 42 per cent of the gross earnings.

"Fourth—it was shown that according to the census and interstate commerce reports the net increase in the United States from operation of agriculture in 1900 was 8.05 per cent; from manufacturers 19.05 per cent; while the railways have only yielded 4.06 per cent. It is also true that the farms and manufacturing enterprises owe their prosperity to the cheap, rapid, and efficient railway transportation.

"Fifth—that the average capitalization of the railways in the United States is $61,360, as against $127,696 in other countries.

"Sixth—that instead of the ownership of railways being concentrated into only a few hands, the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that for the year 1904 the number of stockholders amounted to 327,851, and the owners of railway bonds amounted to about 700,000, making a grand total of more than a million.

"Seventh—that to place the rate making power in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission would logically result in the adoption of an arbitrary basis for fixing freight rates, which in turn would result in the erection of a Chinese wall around each industrial center, beyond the bounds of which it would be impossible to do business."

The Launching of the J.-P.

Saturday afternoon about two o'clock a new craft was launched in the transparent waters of Loch Lomond with due ceremony. The handsome little skiff was presented to John and Paul Moore, Jr., by their grandfather, Mr. John B. Atkinson. After the crating had been removed and the nails pulled from the keel the skiff was carried from the boat house to the edge of the water and was shoved in as Mrs. Moore broke a bottle of lake water over the prow and christened the new boat the J.-P. in honor of the young owners. Quite a number of friends were present at the launching and witnessed the ceremony.

The Railroad Rate Question in a Nutshell.

One of the clearest and best statements of the essential facts bearing upon the proposed regulation of interstate railroad rates by Government authority that has been presented is contained in the address delivered by Hon. John V. Smith, of Montgomery, before the National Association of Railway Commissioners at recent meeting in Deadwood, S. D. Mr. Smith was the retiring president of the association, and in addition to his experience as chairman of the Alabama Railroad Commission, he has given a careful study to the larger problem of national regulation.

Mr. Smith sums up the matter as follows:

"First—It has been clearly shown and proved by statistics which I have never heard questioned, that the average freight rates upon our American railroads are, by actual comparison, lower than any other country in the world, and lower than ever before in this country.

"Second—that the average pay of the laborers on our railroads is higher than that of any other country in the world.

Children's Picnic.

Several of Earlinton's young people spent the day at Lakeside park Saturday. There were just thirty-two boys and girls. The girls furnished the dinner and the boys ate it. They had a jolly good time all day playing skip-to-my-love and having shows. The dinner was nice and nicely served and greatly enjoyed by all present. In the afternoon fishing and boat riding were indulged in and several small fish were caught. The young people were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fawcett, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Orr and Bryan Hopper.

Great Extravasum.

A point of attendance and enthusiasm in the convention has already surpassed any heretofore held. With the first address, the representatives of the different counties showed a tendency to applaud every utterance in regard to the present prosperity of the State. After some sober consideration of the object of the convention, however, this disappeared to give place to an apparent interest in every sentence of advice or recommendation.

While the actual business of the convention was hardly reached yesterday, the speakers went to the meat of the subjects under consideration with little play of words. The attendance at night was augmented largely by Louisville business men, many of whom attended the afternoon session also.

May be Annual Event.

Owing to the unsurpassed enthusiasm expressed in the convention, the promoters have about decided that it shall be made an annual meeting hereafter instead of a biennial gathering as heretofore. Three prosperous Kentucky cities have sent large delegations to the convention to push this idea in the hope of attracting the next meeting.

Paducah, Winchester and Versailles are the candidates for the honor of entertaining the convention at its next session, and each delegation is anxious to have the next meeting held as soon as possible.

The widely expressed opinions of the delegates, speakers and promoters of the meeting were

MAY MAKE THE MEETING ANNUAL.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 11.—Signified by the attendance of nearly 600 representatives of Louisville and the State at large, who are enthusiastic in the idea of developing the resources of Kentucky, the fourth State Development Convention convened yesterday at the Galt House. Eight addresses were made during the day, each replete with appeals to the citizens of the State to awake to its possibilities. The organization of business clubs was one of the most important suggestions. Several speakers of the day suggested that Kentucky should cease depending on honor of the past and look to the future.

In all of the eight speeches made, the two ideas were predominant. "Kentucky has lived long on honor," said one speaker, "and it will ever rebound to her credit." Now that we have that, we should look for something else—commercial growth, advancement and prosperity, not the worship of old ideas. Those have become synonymous with the name, Kentucky. Now we need commercial push."

Delegates to the convention began to gather early in the morning and spent the time before 2 o'clock registering and securing badges. Before the opening session was called to order, nearly every county had been represented and others arrived later in the day and last night. At the afternoon session, the convention hall was well filled. At the combined smoker, musicale and business session last night standing room was almost at a premium.

TO BANQUET THE PRESIDENT

Men of Prominence to Celebrate Anniversary of Roosevelt's Birth in New York.

New York, Oct. 10.—A banquet in honor of President Roosevelt will be given on the forty-seventh anniversary of his birth, October 27, in the room in which the president was born, at 23 East Twentieth street, in this city. Besides the president, several men of national prominence have been invited, and have signified their intentions to be present.

Douglas declared that he had no personal knowledge of the bank's affairs.

"I have done anything wrong," Douglas said. "I suppose I ought to be punished for it."

"Do you sacrifice your present position to any political influence?" he was asked.

"No, I do not," he answered. "It can be said to the men of reform which seems to be sweeping the country. It is shown in the investigation of the life insurance companies, in the Milwaukee graft investigation and similar investigations in other cities, and in some instances these investigations have accomplished a great deal of good."

Douglas declared that he had no personal knowledge of the bank's affairs.

MINING NOTES.

Mr. James Boyd, of Hopkinsville, who has been in charge of the construction work for the Nortonville Coal Company at that piece for the past six months, has resigned. Mr. C. C. Kelly, of Guthrie, has accepted the position vacated by him.

Foreman Albert Toombs, of Fox Run, was here Saturday and Sunday on business.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 7.—The purchase and cash payment for the Charleston coal field near Dawson Springs, in Hopkins county, Kentucky, together with the incorporation of the Dawson Coal, Coke and Railroad Company for $500,000, with the main office at Dawson, was today made public, together with pending negotiations in north Alabama for a similar coal field, including mines and the plants of one of the largest coal companies in the South. When combined the Dawson coal field will make a million dollar property, with a daily output of 2,000 tons of coal.

E. S. Blanks has resigned his position as machinist at St. Charles with the St. Bernard Mining Co., and has accepted a position with the Robards Coal Co., as general manager. Mr. Blanks is an all round coal man and the Robards Co., have secured a good man to manage their affairs.

Extensive development forces are now at work in the Brush Creek coal fields of the Knox county, one of the most important undeveloped coal fields in the Kentucky-Tennessee-Virginia region. Several months ago the Cumberland Railroad Co., composed of Pennsylvania capitalists, began the construction of a line from near Barbourville into the Brush Creek section, and this railroad, now nearly completed, will open up that section for commercial purposes. The new line, which is a common carrier, is 10 miles in extent, and is built for the heaviest traffic, being better than the average railroad in this country. The company has just amended its charter to permit the construction of an extension to Jellico, on the Kentucky Tennessee line, and if the 17 miles necessary to connect with point are constructed the Brush Creek fields will have an outlet in two directions—connecting with the Louisville & Nashville system to the north at Barbourville and the Southern and Louisville &

Nashville lines at Jellico to the south.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9.—F. W. Farmer, of Barbourville, who arrived here tonight, brings news of a rich oil strike in Wayne county yesterday, the well running 500 barrels in twenty hours.

The well is seventeen miles from Monticello and seven miles from any territory developed. The land on which the strike was made is leased by Mrs. M. I. Russell, of Bloomington, Ill., who is the only woman operator in this state.

Barbourville, Ky., Oct. 10.—The Bennett Jellico Coal Company, a $50,000 concern, has started developments in the new Brush Creek coal fields. A mile railroad is under construction to their plant, which is being built with a view of mining 1,000 tons daily.

If the expected strike between the operators and the miners of Pennsylvania occurs next spring the coal companies would be well prepared for it. Large quantities of coal are being stored by them in anticipation of a strike being ordered and they will be able to fill demands for their own use if the strike should last six months. The strike, if it occurs, will be over the eight hour day.

The Award Commission which arbitrated the trouble between the operators and miners in that field several years ago declared that nine hours constituted a day's work, but the miners will make a determined effort it is stated to secure the adoption of an eight hour day throughout the anthracite coal field.

A WORD WITH ADVERTISERS

John G. Chestnut says that the Merchants' Association of Sunbury have eliminated all catch schemes and that he pursues newspaper advertising as the only legitimate means of publicity. Under the head of "catch schemes" there might be enumerated many different methods of bringing one's business to the attention of the public, all of them costly and most of them altogether ineffective. That they are ineffective is proved every day by our own experience and the words of Mr. Chestnut quoted above only accentuate a fact we already know.

Another merchant says: "You can't run a business without advertising it and keeping before the people through the medium of the newspaper."

A fact well recognized by all newspaper men is expressed by another man as follows:

"Don't forget the newspaper's influence over the feminine mind. Riding on car during the excitement over the naval battles between Russia and Japan I observed that the men read the war news, and the women were reading advertisements.

"Those women I watched keenly, read every line of the advertisements, and then turned to the woman's page. This ride was a distance of 80 miles, at the journey's end, the women had not yet had time to turn to the actual news of the day. The women want advertising to read, and you must present your business in a readable shape to be in the fight these days."

There is no doubt that women read the advertisements in a newspaper with greater avidity than men. This fact is well known to newspaper men and it is proved to them daily by the numerous responses to advertisements from female readers. The judicious and skilled advertiser will address his advertisement especially to this class of readers and when he does so, he invariably gets a response. The woman does not live who does not have an ardent desire to get actual value for the money she has to spend.

The merchant who convinces her that he will give actual value is sure to get her money.

That newspaper advertising pays needs no argument. All who thus advertise know this fact. Others can be convinced only by seeing their competitors get the trade. We know this, most of the Chambersburg merchants know it and the delegates of the State Retailer's Convention know it.—Chambersburg Reporter.

"The Girl and the Bandit." Manager Frank L. Perley has made some changes in the cast of "The Girl and the Bandit," which has been a great success to date, and as the company of last season was conceded to be one of the greatest ever organized. Viola Gillette, the handsome "girl-boy" on the stage, is still the prima donna. Miss Mabel Hite, the dainty comedienne, whose mirth-provoking portrayal of Queenie was the emphatic hit of last season, will be seen in her delicious role. Joseph Mirro, of the sub-marine voice, has his old part of Murderous Geo. MacFarlane is still Count di Romano, while among the new faces are T. Henry Cooley, a lyric tenor who captivated audiences with his voice, a member of the "Prince of Pilsen" company, and who last season supported Fritz Scheff. Francis Ann Wear is the latest discovery of Mr. Perley. Miss Wear is a Texan by birth, the possessor of much physical beauty and a truly marvelous soprano voice of great range, sympathy and expression. Marchesi considers her one of her greatest pupils. Campbell Donald, who will be remembered as the great pomedian of the Bostonians when a famous organization enjoyed its heyday of prosperity and fame under the direction of Mr. Perley, has been engaged to play the role of the multimillionaire contractor from America. Miss Marion Wilder, one of the leaders of California society, and a native of San Francisco, is the latest addition to both beauty and physique and is one of the much valued new acquisitions.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kans., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough a great deal. "Said Pasha."

The Herald Square Opera Co. presented "Said Pasha" to a packed house at Temple Theatre Saturday night and gave a creditable performance.

Elsie Gibson as Sereen was easily the favorite of the evening and her appearance was a decided success.

Great applause throughout the play. Jessie Highlands as Altis was applauded highly, as were also the ones introducing the specialties during the acts. The play is the best one seen here so far this year and will doubtless be long remembered delightfully by the theatre patrons of this city.

RINGLING BROS. EXCURSIONS.

Special excursion rates on all lines of travel have been arranged for by the management of Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows, and those who wish to go to Hopkinsville, where this great circus exhibits Oct. 25, can do so at very little expense. This will be the only point in this vicinity where the show will exhibit this season, and no one should miss the opportunity to witness it. Ringling Brothers' circus has been the leading arena exhibition of America for years, but the show has never been permitted to visit upon our country. Although it long ago passed the point of competition, every season sees a greater and grander show. This year's performance is entirely new, and entails the combined efforts of 375 wonderful artists in the equestrian, gymnastic, equilibristic, acrobatic and aerial line, together with 50 famous clowns and hundreds of lesser lights. Six hundred and fifty horses are used and a marvelous trained animal department is presented. The circus this season is greatly enlarged by the addition of Goliath, the world-famous and most beautiful historical meeting between the young Kings of England and France. The vast menagerie has among hundreds of features the only living pafalaffates, the first baby elephant successfully bred and reared in America, and the only rhinoceroses in captivity. There is a glorious revival of the Roman hippodrome races, and many other stupendous features in this great circus. Circus day opens with a brilliant street parade, three miles in length. Don't fail to see it.

There is encouraging evidence that the lynching mania is dying out in the South under the pressure of public sentiment and the vigorous action of such men as Gov. Vardaman, of Mississippi. The year thus far has recorded fewer of these cases of mob violence than any similar period for a number of years. Expression of this form of violence and lawlessness will be further promoted by the action of the supreme court of Mississippi, in affirming the sentence of white man to a life term in the penitentiary for assault upon a black girl.

Under the act just passed by the Pennsylvania legislature for the annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh the city will become one of the country's greatest. The annexation idea will have to be ratified by the vote of the people of the two towns before it can become operative, but this aspect seems assured. The cities which had more than that number of people were New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Baltimore.

Better Than Quinine.

Strong testimony: "Foley's Tonic is the best chill tonic I ever tried. Better than quinine." Said by Druggist.

Prepared by ROBINSON-PETTET CO., (Inc.) Louisville, Ky.

Within a radius of one hundred and fifty miles from Los Angeles, Calif., more varieties of products from the soil are produced than any one could imagine. And a majority of the products yield handsome returns on the investment. Every year some new experiment is tried in the horticultural line in southern California, and it is only a question whether the orange crop will be secondary in importance to some crop that will yield more with less outlay and less work. Experiments are now being made with pineapples.

PASSING PERSONALS.

Miss Grace Barstow, of San Francisco, is the only woman violin maker in the United States, and probably in the world. Moreover, she is a fine performer on the instruments of her own making. She is experimenting with native redwood as a base bar.

A famous Adirondack guide, in the days when the mountain region was a true wilderness, has just died at the age of 95. William McLaughlin was born in the Adirondacks when there were but old Indian trails and he and St. Regis Indians cut new ones as the region began to be visited.

Green McCurtain, governor of the Choctaw nation, will take his place among the millionaires are long. He settled up the affairs of the tribe recently, involving the sale of coal lands worth $40,000,000. Of this purchase price Gov. McCurtain will receive ten per cent, as commission, or $4,000,000.

Mrs. W. S. Pratt, of Atlanta, Ga., is to be the only woman south of Chicago in the lumber trade. When the firm by whom she was employed went out of business without losing a day hunting a position she opened an office and began operations. To-day she is head of a firm handling 100 cars of lumber monthly.

Henrietta Heater, who has done so much for the cheapening of postal communication in Great Britain, urges the formation of a league to make the penny post universal. It is, he says, absurd to charge two-pence half penny for a letter to Calais or New York, when a letter to Canada has postage New York on a penny.

Mr. Edison has but one speech to his credit. He was to lecture on electricity before a girls' seminary, and was to be assisted by a friend named Adams to work the apparatus. The boy was so dazed when he heard his friend say he had to leave him that he ran off to the door and said, "I am not going to speak to you again."

Prescribed by Dr. J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the care of several doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my neck, and I was told I had cancer. I have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first time I took it I thought I had no great relief, but twenty five cent bottles cured me and well."

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity."

THE WABASH BATTLE

The Day Taken Up Examining Premiums—The Good Interest Overwhelmingly in the Majority.

Toledo, Oct. 11.—No directors were chosen at the annual meeting of the Wabash railroad Tuesday. The sessions, with the exception of two brief recesses, lasted from nine o'clock in the morning until 11:30 at night, almost the entire time being taken up by the examination of proxies. Although no figures had been given out by the inspectors of election, it is believed that the vote to be taken the first thing this morning will show that Mr. Gould has a solid majority of the stock held in bonds, and that Mr. Ramsey has in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. This makes certain that six men nominated by the Gould faction as directors representing the stockholders will be elected. The men are Russell S. Weil, W. S. Pierce, R. C. Clovry, E. T. Weile, W. B. Saunders and R. M. Galloway. Mr. Ramsey has not shown sufficient strength to enable him to hold his seat as a director, and it is generally believed that he is weaker in stock proxies than he is in the bonds.

Battle of Danville.
Danville, Ill., Oct. 11.—The renewal of a long-standing feud between Cassius Lawrence and John Crimmins, farmers and stock raisers, residing near Indianapolis, this county, resulted in the former shooting and instantly killing the latter. Lawrence, accompanied by friends, came to Danville and surrendered himself to the sheriff. He claims self-defense.

The Danger Past.
Berkeley, Cal., Oct. 11.—All danger from the fire that swept the Berkely hotel building on Oct. 10, A. W. Whitney remained in the building all night to prevent a fresh outbreak. The Berkely town trustees passed a resolution thanking the students for saving property.

Around the Farm

To Keep Eggs Fresh.

It is possible to keep eggs fresh for any length of time by simply immersing them in a ten per cent solution of citric acid of cold water. This preserves the eggs perfectly, which renders the eggs perfectly safe. The preserving solution is best prepared by dissolving one pound of liquid glass in four quarts of cold water. The eggshells immersed in this solution (which should be kept in a glazed earthenware vessel), and so kept for a short time. Prof. W. A. of the North Dakota Experiment Station says it is believed that in this glass solution the eggs will, when used for preserving eggs, give better satisfaction than any other method available for those who desire to keep eggs for any great length of time. Eggs put down by this method have kept from three to nine months, and the eggs have come out in better condition than by any other method tested.

Improve Orchards.

The Illinois experiment station has done considerable work on orchard cultivation and management. In bulletin 59 the following are given as some of the reasons why many orchards are unproductive:

1. Too many growers are expecting a crop to be given them without putting forth any efforts themselves, after the trees have been set. The apple tree requires the same careful attention as other farm crops.

2. Lack of moisture is a common cause of failure, especially in southern Illinois. This is because grass and other crops are allowed to compete with the trees for the moisture supplied by rains. Water is just as essential to the apple tree as it is to the laborer in the harvest field.

3. Pests and diseases attack these orchards or fungus diseases. These predators consider that they have as much right to the products of the farm as does the farmer himself. For this reason he must get his artillery and ammunition ready to fight the enemy.

4. Lack of fertility is a common cause. The apple orchard cannot produce a profitable crop unless provided with an ample supply of nitrogen, potash, and phosphoric acid, and the trees will not well adapt to the unproductive orchards of the other states of the Mississippi valley.

For the Dairymen.

Don't put off filling the silo until the corn is caught by the frost.

Praise the day at eve-time, and the cow at the end of the year, if she then deserves it.

Cleanliness is next to godliness; this applies as much to the cow stable as the front parlor.

To make a success of dairying you can't know too much about your cows. No two are just alike.

Cows which have good and comfortable surroundings eat less food, get on better and give more milk.

One way to test the corn is to press the grain firmly, and if the pulp splits out easily it is properly matured for the silo.

If the corn is very green and soft, it is watery, and the ensilage made from it is apt to become too acid. If too old, it will lack succulence, will mold, and will not keep well.

General Farm Notes.

Ground your wire fences.

Oil is a cheap heavier than chimney.

To save time is to lengthen life. Plan your work beforehand.

Attend to that painting now. Heat drives the oil in, where it costs the most.

Kind and considerate treatment goes a good ways in getting the best results from the boy or hired man.

When you undertake to hire a farm hand, and he says he will "exchange references" with you—then you realize that labor is making a union with independence. Yet, after all, why should the laborer alone certify to his character? The employer should also have something of the sort.

The Range for Hogs.

While most swine raisers believe in the range for hogs, they are inclined towards some of the sow crops, such as rye and oats, rather than the regulation grass pasture of mixed growth. There is no doubt but that rye and oats or rye alone, makes a good pasture for swine, if the rye are not turned on it too soon.

The general plan is to wait until the rye is say, eight or nine inches high before the swine are turned in.

The Live Stock.

Any fool can run a team, but a wise driver maintains its value.

Quiet and patient drivers are worth twice as much as any others.

It is not well for a driver to trust a young horse too far, no matter how quiet he may seem ordinarily. While fattening hogs should have all the grain they will eat up clean. No more should be given at any one time than is readily eaten.

A docile, contented animal is always a good feeder, as little of its feed is spent in nervous excitement or restless action.

Save time, wagon grease and dirty fingers, as well as prolong the life of your horses and wagons by greasing little and often.

Never strike or hurt a halker. Staff cloth in his ear or hold up his foot and tinker with it fully three minutes. Divert his attention and do it kindly.

Wool is a product that does not take fertility from the soil, like grain growing, but actually adds to the soil for grain-growing purposes.

To know how to care for sheep so as to make them grow the largest and finest fleeces and the most vigorous lambs is the important part of sheep management.

Dry or Wet Feed for Cows.

An unusual unusual was made at a college farm with two small herds of milk cows. One herd received a ration of barley oats and oilseed dried, while the other herd was given a ration of bran and gluten feed wet. The cows, six in number, were fed for fifteen days each, and the ration was changed at about the end of the first period. On the ration fed wet the cows gave a total daily yield of 114 pounds of milk, containing 3.88 per cent of fat, and the ration fed dry a daily yield of 116.5 pounds of milk, testing 3.99 per cent of fat, showing an increased daily yield of butter fat in favor of dry feed.

It is unfortunate that this test was not made with the same materials as was done with the same materials in both cases. It is generally believed among practical dairymen that gluten meal or feed is a better milk producer than oilseed, although the composition of the materials hardly explains the reason; hence the difference in the product may possibly be due to the difference in material rather than to the mere fact of wetting the feed.—Inland Farmer.

Salting Experiment.

At State Agricultural Experiment Station experiments were kept without salt for four weeks and their milk record kept during the last two weeks of this period. Then were given the usual allowance of salt for two weeks, and on comparing the milk records it was found that the cows gave 454 pounds of milk during the first period, when salt was withheld, and 561 pounds during the second period, when salt was furnished, a difference of 100 pounds of milk in two weeks in favor of salting.

Cooling Milk for Cheese.

It is not necessary to cool milk intended for cheese as thoroughly as when the milk is to be marketed as such, says American Agriculturist. Such acid fermentation need not be checked further then to allow the milk to arrive at the factory in good condition. Cool the milk to the temperature of the air, keeping it constantly in motion. This favors the escape of volatile animal odors, and the milk will keep well, enough for making cheese.

Keep a Record of the Cow.

Even a little difference in quality of milk accounts for profit or loss on a cow. A shortage of one or two quarts a day often makes the difference between profit and loss on cows feed. It does not make so much difference on pasture. There is no business way in a dairy except keeping a record of each cow.

THE BUTTERFLIES.

The presentation of "The Butterflies" as a big musical comedy by the local talent of Madisonville at the Temple Theatre on Saturday, October 21, promises a real novelty in the way of entertainment. "The Butterflies" is a most ingeniously written by Henry Guy Carlton, a playwright of world renown, and was first presented in this country by the well known actor, John Drew, and his inimitable company. Every line of the play is as bright as a new penny.

In order to make the performance one of more importance and to introduce a greater number of the local talents in the Madisonville area, it was decided to change "The Butterflies" for the introduction of the latest songs and choruses, converting it into a big musical comedy. For more than a month Inkerman Baller has been hard at work securing vocal numbers, orchestra parts and choruses, until at present one of the most dashing musical plays is ready to be offered. Every vocal number has been carefully selected and is

Farmers are in good spirits over the finest crop of tobacco that was ever raised in the Nebo country and they had fine weather in which to put it in the house and cure it, and from present indications a good price will be realized. Farmers, while the crop is enough to make them happy. They have put in more than ever before, and we have had a fine rain, which will cause wheat and grass to come up and get a good start before the winter sets in.
